A Harte-Hanks
NEWSPAPER

The March 31, 1980-81 ABC audit shows where we stand.

WINNER AND STILL CHAMPION!

The final bell's rung. Despite the afternoon paper's disputes, denials and delays, this year's ABC circulation figures are now official.

The Dallas Morning News leads in total circulation both on Sundays – 356,320 to 337,848 – and daily – 283,748 to 243,514.

Sundays we gained over 10,000. And the afternoon paper? They actually lost over 1,000. That means our lead has grown to over 18,000 – tripling our advantage from a year ago.

Daily, we also gained substantially – over 5,000. And, once again, the afternoon paper lost circulation – by almost 1,500. Altogether, that means our daily lead has grown even stronger – to 40,000.

And the crowning victory for The Morning News? For the first time, we've taken the lead in total daily circulation in the 11 county S.M.S.A.

But although the title of winner is ours in the circulation arena, we're working harder than ever to make The Dallas Morning News one of the finest newspapers anywhere.

And that's something worth fighting for – and winning.

The competition doesn't even give you half the picture.

If you're shooting for Dallas' young affluent market (and who isn't?), there's only one paper in town that can do the job. The Dallas Times Herald.

After all, we focus in on 54% of all adults, ages 18 to 49, with annual family incomes in excess of $20,000. So every Sunday the Times Herald delivers 31,400* more people in Dallas County than does the competition. And our daily average is impressive, too.

Think about it. Over half of your potential buyers are buying the Dallas Times Herald. Morning and afternoon. It's the best way for your business to get in the picture.

New math for people whose market includes Virginia...

It is virtually certain that, when the dust finally settles on the 1980 census, Virginia will have a Supermetro. The consolidation of data about the Newport News - Hampton SMSA and the Norfolk - Virginia Beach - Portsmouth SMSA into a third set of data will produce a supermetro likely to be called Hampton Roads.

It is also virtually certain that the Newport News - Hampton SMSA will expand by at least one county, and that the Norfolk - Virginia Beach - Portsmouth SMSA will contract by a county.

Although the Norfolk - Virginia Beach - Portsmouth SMSA is slightly more than twice as populous, the Newport News - Hampton SMSA has better "per capita" figures in virtually all of the important categories of economic and social data.

That's just one of the reasons why we call Metro Newport News - Hampton "The better side of Hampton Roads for almost everything."

Contact our national representatives, Sawyer-Ferguson-Walker, for more details.

In Vancouver two heads are better than one.

If you want to make headway in the Vancouver market there's only one way to go.

The doubleheader of The Vancouver Sun and the Province.

Over $5.0 billion in retail sales last year makes Vancouver Canada's third largest market.

And The Sun and the Province have the broadest reach.

In a recent research study, approved by C.A.R.F., they had a combined unduplicated weekly reach of 727,000 or 79.9% of all adults in the Vancouver C.M.A.

And on any given weekday they are read by 516,000 or 56.7% of all adults.

More Vancouver market readership and demographic data is available through Newspaper Audience DATAbank. And is accessible through IMS and TELMAR.

So, to get ahead in the Vancouver market, get together with The Vancouver Sun and the Province.

Sweet bird of youth.

Phoenix is younger, brighter and more affluent than you might think.

Most people still think of Phoenix as simply an oversized retirement community.

They couldn't be more wrong.

With a median age of 29.9, the people of Phoenix are younger than the people of Los Angeles, San Francisco and New York.

They're not only young, they're on their way up. One of every two Phoenix adults is college-educated. And, last year, the average Phoenix household acquired retail goods at a faster rate than the households of Chicago, Boston or Philadelphia.

To help make those purchase decisions, Phoenix young families turn to their daily newspapers.

Of adults 25 to 34, six out of ten can be reached by an average daily issue of The Arizona Republic/The Phoenix Gazette.

Across the nation, few major metro newspapers deliver such impressive penetration of the young adult audience. And few major markets offer such a surprisingly youthful audience to deliver.

Phoenix. It's a rare bird indeed.

IMMORTAL SPIRIT OF THE PHOENIX by Peter Max, one of America's foremost contemporary artists. A "new-age" interpretation of the mythical bird that consumed itself on a pyre of spices and was reborn — just as the city of Phoenix grew out of the 'ashes' of four ancient American Indian cities. A commissioned painting by Peter Max. Reproduced here courtesy of the Collection of The Arizona Repubic/The Phoenix Gazette.

WE COUNT THE PEOPLE WHO COUNT – YOUR CUSTOMERS

AS A CORNERSTONE for its economic survey and forecasting services, Marketing Economics Institute maintains a comprehensive library of information on the composition and change of U.S. industrial and consumer markets. MEI's nationally recognized team of professional demographers and economists update the county, city and city part files of the library on a continuous basis.

The timeliness and accuracy of the data reflect the attention to detail at local market level made possible by MEI's exclusive system of monitoring activity in all U.S. counties, more than 2,250 cities and towns and in the 40,000 key industrial plants which annually account for 80% of value added by U.S. manufacturing. The resources of the library are made available to regular clients on a contract basis, but individual files may be purchased singly by business planners and research specialists with specific needs. Marketing Economics Institute will provide any of these county data files on IBM cards or magnetic tape or will aggregate the data to custom designed client market area format.

MARKETING ECONOMICS will be happy to discuss how its exclusive demand/supply approach to sales analysis and its wide range of statistical techniques can be used to measure and forecast sales for your product lines.

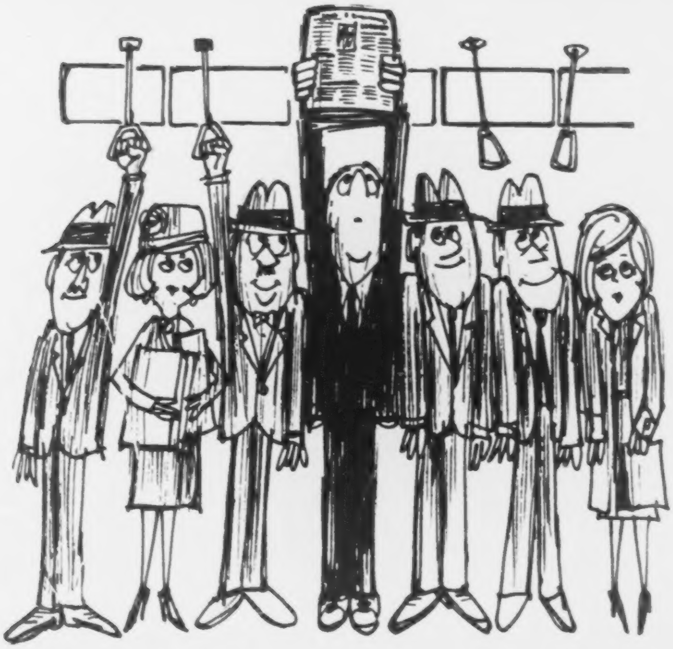
NEWSPAPERS.



TOUGH TO PUT DOWN.

When you really want to get your sales message across, it's tough to beat newspapers.

Newspapers are the prime source of information for millions of Canadians every day. When they want to know the whole story they turn to the pages of their local newspaper.

A reader can take his time, read at his own pace, at his convenience. The same is true for your advertisement. People can and do take the time to read, re-read and respond to sales messages. If you really want to sell, advertise in newspapers.

Thomson newspapers are complete sources of information in the communities they serve. Readers receive the latest local, national and international news. You can reach these markets with one call . . . to Thomson Newspapers Advertising Services, where a representative will provide complete information about Thomson Newspapers.

Bringing truth and understanding to a waiting world

Satellite communication, giving equal access to objective information to both large and small newspapers, to both liberal and conservative newspapers, is already proving that the evils of partisan journalism need not dominate.

We will fight to free mankind from prejudice.

We will fight for a free press — because it is only through this expression of liberty that America's future can be assured.
